Two contractors approved by state regulators at board's first 2008 meeting

CHARLESTON – In its first meeting of 2008, the state board that regulates the manufactured housing industry approved licenses for two contractors.

Given approval to work on factory-built housing by the West Virginia Manufactured Housing Construction and Safety Standards Board were:

- Martin's Electric & Contracting of 423 Virginia Ave., Petersburg.
- C&C Creative Concrete of 274 Belgrove Rd., Kenna.

The board voted to hold its next meeting at 10 a.m. March 20 at the state Capitol in Charleston.
